

Round trips Togo

Dare you choose a less-known destination for your next trip? Try Togo!

Both in July and December we offer small-scale group journeys through this amazing, yet little known West African country.

You'll connect with the local people and their daily life activities, learn about the country's slave history and about its culture.

The July journey includes a visit to the traditional Ewala festival in the Kara region, and the December journey takes you to the biggest annual voodoo festival in the country.

We promise: you won't regret it!

Papillon at the Afro Latino Festival

Pencil it down: 20 - 22 June 2014!

Near the border with The Netherlands, Bree in Belgian Limburg will host the Afro Latino Festival. A colorful festival with musicians from many a country, including Mali.

You'll find us in the market section with a booth. Looking forward to meet you there, for information on our journeys, to get to know us and for beautiful West African fair-trade handicrafts.

Upcoming

At Papillon Reizen we are never done creating journeys. Whenever we go exploring, we get inspired and come up with something new!

We are working on a January 2015 round trip through Benin, taking you to some of the countries most beautiful places and immersing you in the mysteries of the voodoo religion.

Depending on how the situation in the country evolves, we'll come up with a February 2015 round trip through Mali, including Ségou's well-known Festival sur le Niger, a Dogon Country trekking and a multiple day Niger river trip.

Connect with us on Facebook, Google+ or Twitter for more regular updates on what keeps us busy!

An up-to-date list of our scheduled group journeys and activities is available in our calendar. Questions on our journeys or destinations? We'll be happy to answer them!

Warm greetings from sunlit Ségou on behalf of the entire team,
