Itinerary

day 1: arrival Cotonou

The day is dedicated to the journey to Benin.

Arrival at Cotonou's international airport.

Transfer to the accommodation.

night in: Cotonou

day 2: Cotonou - Porto Novo (85k)

The morning is used to take care of practical issues such as money exchange and arranging a local sim card and / or an introduction to Cotonou.

After lunch the journey goes by road to Abomey-Calvi, where you go aboard of a boat for a trip on Noukoué Lake. The lake is known for the stilt villages of which Ganvié is by far the best known. Visit to Ganvié. Travel back ashore and continue by road to Porto Novo, the capital of Benin.

night in: Porto Novo

day 3: Porto Novo - Dassa (235k)

The morning is spent in Porto Novo. Visit the botanical garden, the ethnographical museum, the 'Place International des Phantomes à 9 Têtes', - the place dedicated to 9-headed phantoms, the old market, the central mosque and the Songhai centre.

In the afternoon the journey goes by road to Dassa, with a visit to Bohicon's underground village along the way.

night in: Dassa

day 4: Dassa - Natitingou (360k)

The morning is used for a visit to Dassa's sacred hills and to the Maria cave of Notre Dame d'Arigbo.

When talking about Dassa's sacred hills, the population uses the sacred voodoo number of 41. In reality there are more hills. In former times the hills were inhabited. People had sought shelter to protect their families against hostile tribes and slave hunters. To guarantee their well-being voodoo masters protected the area with sacred voodoo ceremonies. Up till today a voodoo palace is in use on one of the hills. Climb a hill with your guide and be introduced to the past and present of the sacred hills.

After the visits the road trip continues to the North, destination Natitingou, where arrival is expected in the afternoon.

A late afternoon visit is made to the regional museum and to a tchouc (local beer) distillery. Tchouc and banana fritter tasting.

night in: Natitingou

day 5: Natitingou -Park Pendjari (360k)

A side-trip is made to Somba country in the morning. This area of Benin, situated on the border with Togo, is known for its traditional architecture. The mud-built two-story houses, locally called tata's, are well-worth a visit. A local guide explains about the culture, traditions and customs of the Somba people.

Time has come to travel further North for an introduction to Benin's wildlife. Park Pendjari is listed as a UNESCO world heritage site and often referred to as the best park in West Africa. For good reason. The park is home to elephants, lions, warthogs, buffalos, multiple gazelle species, crocodiles, hippos and hundreds of bird species. Occasionally even a leopard can be seen. The late afternoon is dedicated to a game drive in the park.

night in: Park Pendjari

day 6: Park Pendjari - Natitingou (195k)

Wake up to the sounds of nature. Your accommodation is situated in the park and as soon as you step outside you may see wildlife in the distance. Take advantage of the early morning hours for a second game drive. Leave the park in the afternoon and enjoy a refreshing swim at the Tanougou falls.

In the late afternoon the journey goes back to Natitingou.

night in: Natitingou

day 7: Natitingou - Ouidah (550k)

Travel back to the South of the country, destination Ouidah. The road trip of 550k takes you through the different regions and landscapes of the country.

Arrival in Ouidah is expected in the late afternoon. The town, situated on the ocean front is known for both its role in the slave trade as well as for the voodoo religion. Every year on January 10th - national voodoo day - a voodoo festival is held at the beach near the Gate of No Return.

night in: Ouidah

day 8: Ouidah - Cotonou - departure

The last day of the trip through Benin has arrived already. In the morning Ouidah is visited: visit the pythons' temple and the basilica and walk the 4k long slave road along landmarks as the Tree of Forgetfulness and the well, where people had to wash of their African sins to the Gate of No Return at the ocean front.

Travel back to Cotonou via de Route de Peche, the coastal road, in the afternoon.

Transfer to the airport, according to the departure time of your flight.
