

Experience Mali

Millet beer tasting

For many a traveller one of the fun parts of a new destination is exploring local customs, food and drinks.

Join your guide to a local millet beer brewery. Millet beer brewing is usually a family activity. On the family's compound a mud-built stove, especially constructed to heat the millet beer and to keep the pans warm during the process, is the centre of all activities.

You're introduced to the process and offered the chance to taste the (lukewarm) beer.

Cheers!
