1-day Dogon Country

Southern circuit by motor

This day-trip takes us to the Cliff of Bandiagara, a UNESCO world heritage site, where we visit several villages. Today we set out on a motorbike trip through part of the South of Dogon country.

We are introduced to the mud-built villages with traditional granaries, ginnas and togunas. We visit the old cliff houses of Téli from where we have a nice view over the valley and gain insights about everyday daily life of the Dogon people. Along the way the guide explains about the fascinating culture of the Dogon people.

Itinerary

Bandiagara - Djiguibombo - Kani Kombolé - Téli - Bandiagara

Early morning pick-up from our accommodation in Bandiagara by the guide. On the backseat of the motorbike we travel from Bandiagara deeper into Dogon country. We soon leave the asphalt road, we pass a few villages and vast stretches of onion fields. Our first stop is the village of Djiguibombo on the plateau.

After the visit we descend the plateau. The winding road leads to the plain, where we visit Kani Kombolé. This village is well-known for its picturesque adobe mosque and the many baobabs (monkey bread trees). Téli is our third and last village. Get ready for some adventure as we have some sandy patches of road ahead. Our arrival is expected around lunch time. We enjoy a lunch break and a meal in one of the encampments.

Around 2:30 pm we set out exploring the village, which has the actual village in the plain and the old village along the cliff. The latter giving us an impression of life in times past.

In the late we travel back to Bandiagara, where our motor drivers drop us off at our accommodation.

Enjoy Dogon Country the adventurous way!
